Site Description

The Pannier Market was originally designed by the Borough Surveyor, Richard Davey Gould, opened in 1855 and linked High Street and Boutport Street. This was intended for vegetables, with a Corn Market and Music Hall built shortly after at the Boutport Street end. It represents the civic establishment, commercial and social life of the town from their mid-19th century construction date to today. Therefore, this streetscape is crucial to the interpretation of the narrative of Barnstaple's 19th century revival.

The "Pannier Market, Butchers Row" has been Grade II listed since 1951. The building has a warring aesthetic between its desire to showcase and show-off civic wealth, pride and produce and its desire to be a busy working space, eminently practical. The main feature of the building is its extraordinary timber-framed roof. The roof is engineered with timber frame, and timber roof on timber columns. The glass glazing on the roof provides natural light inside the market, thus, creating a strong aesthetic.

The southern building façade has a strong classical aesthetic with round-headed arches having subtle flourishes. It is built with in sharply lined and easier to clean hard brown-red engineering bricks, reminiscent of the working buildings of mills and factories of the age. There are decorative details to arches and doorways and there are details of stamps to the cast-iron hoppers of the guttering.

To the south of the site is Butchers Row and the Queens Theatre to the east, with the former slaughter house and former Public house to the north. Whilst to the north there is also a restaurant area and shop. To the west is of course the historic Guildhall and the High Street.

Heritage & Conservation Officer Reply Received 18 May 2022	18/05/2022 11:48 - This application relates to the first phase of works to the grade II listed Pannier Market. These works focus on repair, with some alterations. I have been consulted at various stages of the preparation of these plans, and have no issues with the works proposed, which will serve to increase the life of the building, improve its thermal performance, and in some cases such as the re-instatement of the arched window in the Corn Store and the revelation of the arch in the offices opposite, will better reveal the significance of the building. Where alterations are proposed, such as the insulation of the Corn Store roof, and the addition of double glazed aluminium windows to the clerestory, these do not involve the loss of historic fabric (existing windows are modern and the sarking boards to the underside of the roof will be retained), and will allow an improved function and use of the building. I am happy to support this application and do not consider that it will cause any harm to the significance of the listed building.
Historic England Reply Received 9 May 2022	Historic England Advice Barnstaple's Pannier Market was built in 1855-6 by R.D. Gould. It is listed at grade II. Considerations

Proposal Description

This application seeks listed building consent for the renovation of public toilets, market offices, insulation of the corn store roof together with repairs to Pannier Market roof and installation of solar panels.

More specifically the works include:

- New offices within the Corn Store ground floor
- Accessible gender-neutral public toilets and meeting rooms on the first floor
- Insulation of the Corn Store roof
- Replacement and insulation of the lead flat roof above the Corn Store by new lead flat roof
- Installation of PV panels on the southern slope of the main Pannier Market roof
- Reopening the existing blocked window between the Corn Store and the Public Toilets
- Replace all uPVC brackets, RWPs and Hoppers by aluminium Rainwater goods.

The installation of the solar panels is proposed to be on to the southern roof slope of the Pannier Market. The panels will sit behind the parapet as demonstrated in the extract below (the corn exchange is shown in the section to the left).

Planning Considerations Summary

- Design and Heritage Assets
- Sustainable Development

Planning Considerations

The development plan for this area includes the Devon Waste Plan and North Devon and Torridge Local Plan. The relevant Policies are detailed above.

Section 16 of the Listed Building Act, in considering whether to grant listed building consent for any works the Local Planning Authority shall have special regard to the desirability of preserving the building or its setting or any features of special architectural or historic interest which it possesses.

Section 72 of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 states a general duty of a Local Planning Authority as respects conservation areas in exercise of planning functions. In the exercise, with respect to any buildings or other land in a conservation area special attention shall be paid to the desirability of preserving or enhancing the character or appearance of that area.

The National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) is a material consideration.

The conservation appraisal and management report for the area are also material considerations.

Design and Heritage

Policies ST15 and DM07 seek to conserve and enhance the historic built environment. Policy ST02 promotes opportunities for renewable and low-carbon energy generation whilst conserving and enhancing the natural and built environment;

The National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) is a material consideration and reflects the above policy context. It goes on to set out that 'when considering the impact of a proposed development on the significance of a designated heritage asset (conservation areas and listed buildings), great weight should be given to the asset's conservation. The more important the asset, the greater the weight should be. Significance can be harmed or lost through alteration or destruction of the heritage asset or development within its setting.'

This is a Grade II listed building which abuts the Guildhall which listed Grade II*. Significance is defined as the value of a heritage asset to this and future generations because of its heritage interest. That interest may be archaeological, architectural, artistic or historic.

The NPPF goes on to state that 'where a development proposal will lead to less than substantial harm to the significance of a designated heritage asset, this harm should be weighed against the public benefits of the proposal, including securing its optimum viable use.'

The Conservation Area Management Plan for Barnstaple Town Centre follows on from the Conservation Area Character Appraisal for the town that was adopted in March 2010. The management plan document acts as a reference and guide for all those who make decisions which may impact on the special character of Barnstaple. It states that the roofscape is a prominent part of the conservation area and the roofscape is generally of importance throughout the conservation area. The enclosed streets and height of buildings hides many roof slopes from view from short distances although some can be seen and others can even be considered prominent. The management plan goes on to conclude that the use of traditional roofing materials is an important contribution to the Conservation Area.

The whole area is a good example of how rich, diverse and significant the historic environment of Barnstaple is, and efforts are continually being made, through enforcement, pro-active discussions with owners, and enhancement schemes, to maintain and improve this key area of historic Barnstaple.

Members may be aware that the Pannier Market is in need of some updating and improvements. Better facilities, more flexible uses and an improved user offer are all important for the continued relevance of retail and town centre buildings and market halls in particular. Again, as Members will be aware this application forms phase one of a larger project to improve the Pannier Market and other buildings nearby, made possible via the Future High Street Fund.

Turning to the solar panel element of the proposal. The pitched natural slate roof is behind a parapet which will hide the panels from most ground floor views.

Whilst the PV panels introduce a modern feature juxtaposed to the traditional roofing materials that are seen on the site currently they will not be overly visible from outside of the site and are immovable once no longer required for generation thus minimising impacts on the significance of the heritage asset going forward.

Historic England has advised that they support this application and go on to state that the works proposed will not cause harm to the historic building, but will allow it to continue in public use with improved facilities and flexibility. They conclude that the application meets the requirements of the NPPF.

This is reflected by the Councils Conservation Officer who has concluded that "This application relates to the first phase of works to the grade II listed Pannier Market.

These works focus on repair, with some alterations. I have been consulted at various stages of the preparation of these plans, and have no issues with the works proposed, which will serve to increase the life of the building, improve its thermal performance, and in some cases such as the re-instatement of the arched window in the Corn Store and the revelation of the arch in the offices opposite, will better reveal the significance of the building. Where alterations are proposed, such as the insulation of the Corn Store roof, and the addition of double glazed aluminium windows to the clerestory, these do not involve the loss of historic fabric (existing windows are modern and the sarking boards to the underside of the roof will be retained), and will allow an improved function and use of the building.

I am happy to support this application and do not consider that it will cause any harm to the significance of the listed building.”

No objection is therefore raised with regard to the scheme given the considerations detailed above, which allow a conclusion to be reached that the scheme will not unacceptably impact on the significance of the heritage asset.

Ecology

Local Planning Authorities have a statutory duty to ensure that the impact of development on wildlife is fully considered during the determination of a planning application under the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981 (as amended), Natural Environment and Rural Communities Act 2006, The Conservation of Habitats and Species Regulations 2017 (Habitats Regulations 2017).

Due to the limited nature of the works and noting the submitted statements no unacceptable impact on protected species is identified.

Conclusion

Turning to the solar panel element. Noting the climate change benefit of the scheme, the minimal visibility of the panels and the reversibility of the installation it is concluded that it is of public benefit to support the scheme which will not unduly impact on the significance of the asset.

The overall works proposed will not cause harm to the historic building, but will allow it to continue in public use with improved facilities, flexibility and sustainability credentials. The application meets the requirements of the NPPF on this basis.

The application is considered to accord with the adopted development plan and Duties detailed above preserving the heritage asset. Approval of the application is therefore recommended subject to the imposition of conditions as it is considered to demonstrate public benefit.

Human Rights Act 1998

The provisions of the Human Rights Act and principles contained in the Convention on Human Rights have been taken into account in reaching the recommendation contained in this report. The articles/protocols identified below were considered of particular relevance:

- Article 8 – Right to Respect for Private and Family Life
- THE FIRST PROTOCOL – Article 1: Protection of Property

Section 149(1) of the Equality Act 2010 places a statutory duty on public authorities in the exercise of their functions to have due regard to the need to (a) eliminate discrimination, harassment, victimisation and any other conduct that is prohibited by or under the Act (b) advance equality of opportunity between persons who share a relevant protected characteristic and persons who do not share it (c) foster good relations between persons who share a relevant protected characteristic and persons who do not share it (the Public Sector Equality Duty or 'PSED'). There are no equality implications anticipated as a result of this decision.

2. INFORMATIVE NOTE:

The Planning [Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas] [England] [Amendment] Regulations 2003

SUMMARY OF REASONS FOR THE DECISION TO GRANT LISTED BUILDING CONSENT.

The Local Planning Authority considers that listed building consent should be granted as it does not consider that permitting the proposed works would conflict with its duty under Section 16 of The Planning [Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas] Act 1990 to have special regard to the desirability of preserving the building or its setting or any features of special architectural or historic interest which it possesses.
