I am writing to you as a regular supplier at Sandy Cove Hotel. I have regularly worked there late into the evening caring for children and babysitting

The weddings are well run, all staff being attentive to both guests and suppliers needs

They are very aware of the noise level and being conscious of the local community

There are large bifold doors which can be closed to reduce the noise level considerably

This wedding venue provides work not only for all the hotel staff involved but also to numerous wedding suppliers

It would be a huge financial loss to the community if the weddings were not allowed to continue

Kind regards
